With hobbies, people are healthier, says Dr. Peter Lichtenberg. For hobbies like chess or puzzles, you need to think. These hobbies are good for your brain. Hobbies like exercise and sports can keep the body healthy. It's best to have both types of hobbies. You can keep your brain active with games and your body active with swimming or basketball.

Hobbies are also a fun way to meet people, and people with more friends are healthier. There are many hobby clubs. People often become friends because they have similar interests. Are you afraid of getting sick? Start a hobby — it's good for you!
